

FEEGI

Forum of Early-Modern Empires and Global Interactions

Fourteenth Biennial Meeting
24-26 February 2022

The Forum on Early-Modern Empires and Global Interactions gratefully acknowledges the support of UCLA's Department of History and the Joyce Appleby Endowed Chair of America in the World for supporting our online format. Though we are not meeting physically on campus, the History Department at UCLA acknowledges its presence on the traditional, ancestral and unceded territory of the Gabrielino/Tongva peoples.

FEEGI expresses its thanks to the Program Committee: Karen Auman, Ernesto Bassi, Susan Mokheri, Wensheng Wang, and Matt Romaniello (chair)

FEEGI

FOURTEENTH BIENNIAL MEETING
24-26 FEBRUARY 2022

PROGRAM

Thursday, February 24

(All times are PST in recognition of our host; we will begin each day at 9am PST; 12 pm EST; 5 pm GMT)

9:00 am Welcome Matt Romaniello, FEEGI President, Weber State University

9:05 am Panel 1: Visualizing Spaces

Chair: Carla Pestana, UCLA

Marta Peters Oliveira and Sidh Losa Mediratta, University of Porto, "Mapping As-Sufaliyya: African-Asian-European Encounters and Sofala's Early Modern Cultural Landscapes"

Micaela Kowalski, University of Virginia, "Conflating New Worlds: Visual Mix-Up and Mismatch in Early Modern German Print"

Marcos G. Pérez Cañizares, Cornell University, "Isles of Gold, Silver, and Thieves: Spanish Navigators' North Pacific Geography"

Michael William Kraemer, Ohio State University, "Reordering Novo-Arkhangel'sk: Negotiating Space and Place on Sheet'ká"

11:00 am Panel 2: Violence & Enslavement

Chair: Linda Rupert, UNC Greensboro

Leonardo Moreno-Alvarez, University of Pittsburgh, "A Maelstrom of Predation: European Raiding and Indigenous Enslavement in the Southwestern Spanish Caribbean, 1670-1690"

Ian Saxine, Bridgewater State University, "The 'Great Upheaval': Wars, Migrations, and Thinking about 1675-1725 as an Era"

Joanne Jahnke Wegner, University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire, "Colonial Competition and Sexual Violence in the Americas"

Adrian Finucane, Florida Atlantic University, "Captivity and Freedom: Prisoners of War of African Descent in the Eighteenth-Century Southeast"

Friday, February 25

(All times are PST; we will begin at 9am PST; 12 pm EST; 5 pm GMT)

9:00 am Panel 3: Global Sea Routes

Chair: Marjoleine Kars, University of Maryland, Baltimore County

Guido Abbattista, University of Trieste, "GSR-Global Sea Routes, A Historical Geodatabase of European Global Navigation, 1450-1900: Opportunities and Challenges

Erica Grossi, University of Trieste, "'Having lost their Passage round the Cape': On the Wake of the EIC Ship Bedford (1731-1735): Tracing Maritime Routes in GSR, Relational Geospatial Database"

Giulia Iannuzzi, University of Florence and University of Trieste, "Close Encounters at Northern Latitude: James Cook, Nootka Jargon, and the Construction of Global Linguistic Knowledge"

10:30 am Panel 4: Labor, Unfree & Emancipated

Chair: Alison K. Smith, University of Toronto

Daniel Nemser, University of Michigan, "Unfree Labor and Free Circulation: Building the Camino Nuevo to Veracruz"

Dries Lyna, Radboud University Nijmegen, "On Solid Ground? Freed Slaves and Land Ownership in Sri Lanka"

R. Grant Kleiser, Columbia University, "'To Try my Luck and Commence Merchant': Slave Trade, Free Trade, and Emancipation in Eighteenth-Century Caribbean Free Ports"

Benjamin Hurwitz, "The Prospect of Emancipation in Rural South Africa: Enslaved Women and the Law on Zoetendalsvlei Farm"

12:30 pm Panel 5: Colonial Exchanges

Chair: Laura J. Mitchell, University of California, Irvine

Tania Bride, University of California, Los Angeles, "From Jaguar to Pig: Inter-Species Transformation and Environmental Change in New Spain (c. 1530-1770)"

James H. Seth, Central Washington University, "Reexamining English-Japanese Intercultural Performance, 1580-88"

Stephanie Hassell, Clemson University, "Making Catholic Households: Domestic Slavery and the Portuguese Empire in India, 16th-17th Centuries"

Julia Leikin, Higher School of Economics, Moscow, "When the Projector Met the Nabob: The Imperial Ambitions of an Eighteenth-Century Merchant"

Saturday, February 26

(All times are PST; we will begin at 9am PST; 12 pm EST; 5 pm GMT)

9:00 am Panel 6: Entangled Lives

Chair: Ty Reese, University of North Dakota

Rosa Capelão and Amélia Polónia, University of Porto, "Women and Children on Board: The Portuguese Carreira da Índia"

Michael Bennett, The University of Sheffield, "London Merchants, the Brazilian Sugar Trade, and the Rise of the Barbadian Plantation Economy, 1630-1680"

Viviana Quintero Marquez, Vanderbilt University, "Socio-Economic Networks and the Amphitheater of War: A Foreign Cirujano and a Black Protomédico in Cartagena de Indias (1713-1750)"

Haureh Hussein, Trier University, "Global Entanglements between Māori and Quaker Whaling Families (1790-1840)"

11:00 am Panel 7: Ideas & Interactions

Chair: Karen Auman, Brigham Young University

Indravati Félicité, Université de Paris, "Reevaluating the Global Connections of an 'Old' Empire: German Imperial Entanglements in the Early Modern Age"

Christopher P. Gillett, The University of Scranton, "Catholic Visions of a Religiously Pluralist Stuart Empire: Viceroyalty, Ius Emigrandi, and Liberty of Conscience, 1623-1660"

Thomas Day, University of Illinois Urbana-Champaign, "For Their More Comfortable Subsistence: Crafting Liminal Citizenship during the Revolution in Pennsylvania and Massachusetts, 1776-1783"

Rebecca Shumway, University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee, "Palaver: From Oral Deliberation to International Law"

1:00 pm FEEGI Business Meeting & Awards Ceremony

All attendees are invited to attend